

Student/Classroom: _____ Examiner: _____ Assessment Date: _____

The Mysterious Giant of Barletta

In a small town in Italy called Barletta, there was a giant statue of a boy. He stood in the town square (year) in and year out. All the (people) lived their lives around him. Barletta (was) a peaceful town. The people thought (it) would always be that way.

But (one) day, the people heard that an (army) was coming to destroy their town! (Everyone) was scared. They did not have (any) way to protect themselves. The oldest (woman) in town, Zia Concetta, was very (sad). She began talking to her old (friend), the giant statue. She wished he (would) come to life to help protect (the) town of Barletta. And that is (what) he did!

Zia Concetta made a (plan) to save Barletta. While everyone in (town) hid, the giant went to sit (outside) of town with an onion. When (the) army arrived, they were stopped by (the) sight of a giant boy sitting (in) a puddle of tears. The captain (of) the army asked the giant why (he) was crying. The giant said he (was) sad because he was too small (and) weak to play with the other (boys) of his town. The army was (scared). They began to wonder: If this (huge) boy was too small to play (with) the other boys, how big must (the) men in his town be? They (did) not stay to find out. They (ran) away from Barletta as fast as (they) could. And the giant returned to (his) spot in his peaceful, happy (town).

Student Name: _____ Classroom: _____ Date: _____
--

The Mysterious Giant of Barletta

In a small town in Italy called Barletta, there was a giant statue of a boy. He stood in the town square (become, rain, year) in and year out. All the (people, science, weather) lived their lives around him. Barletta (well, breakable, was) a peaceful town. The people thought (snake, store, it) would always be that way.

But (difficult, one, door) day, the people heard that an (army, cord, payment) was coming to destroy their town! (Everyone, boastfully, thought) was scared. They did not have (any, discover, grew) way to protect themselves. The oldest (woman, nation, ant) in town, Zia Concetta, was very (sad, word, map). She began talking to her old (employ, became, friend), the giant statue. She wished he (puzzled, courageous, would) come to life to help protect (the, forgiven, mother) town of Barletta. And that is (encourage, morning, what) he did!

Zia Concetta made a (map, plan, succeed) to save Barletta. While everyone in (town, apologize, religion) hid, the giant went to sit (arrogant, outside, daily) of town with an onion. When (the, disagree, water) army arrived, they were stopped by (when, reign, the) sight of a giant boy sitting (in, unexpectedly, horse) a puddle of tears. The captain (disappear, reach, of) the army asked the giant why (copy, keep, he) was crying. The giant said he (was, meddle, amid) sad because he was too small (terrible, and, wildly) weak to play with the other (boys, slept, cheerfully) of his town. The army was (scared, across, son). They began to wonder: If this (huge, themselves, crossly) boy was too small to play (with, because, substance) the other boys, how big must (the, writing, attempt) men in his town be? They (sore, did, discovery) not stay to find out. They (famous, ran, disgust) away from Barletta as fast as (they, scary, family) could. And the giant returned to (crime, puzzled, his) spot in his peaceful, happy (part, town, confuse).