

Grade 3.2.3 Wilson Fluency

The Talking Cloth

col dad re vis in know tor
lec dy minds it side ing collector Daddy reminds visiting inside knowing

Aunt Phoebe has things. Things and things and things.
“A collector of life,” Mom calls her.
Daddy says she lives in a junk pile.
“Reminds me of your room, Amber,” he says.
I like visiting Aunt Phoebe. There’s no place in her house to be bored, and she always gives me mocha to drink. Daddy says it will stunt my growth.
Aunt Phoebe tells him, “Mocha is named after a city in Yemen, and this child just grew an inch or two, inside, for knowing that.”

Aunt Phoebe has things. Things and things and things.

“A collector of life,” Mom calls her.

Daddy says she lives in a junk pile.

“Reminds me of your room, Amber,” he says.

I like visiting Aunt Phoebe. There’s no place in her house to be bored, and she always gives me mocha to drink. Daddy says it will stunt my growth.

Aunt Phoebe tells him, “Mocha is named after a city in Yemen, and this child just grew an inch or two, inside, for knowing that.”