

Grade 3.4.1 Wilson Fluency
Night of the Pufflings

o ver look ing puf fin whis pers her self spec kled ev er y where re turn ing win ter near by un in hab it ed

---

overlooking puffin whispers herself speckled everywhere returning winter nearby uninhabited

---

Halla searches the sky every day. As she watches from on a cliff overlooking the sea, she spots her first puffin of the season.
She whispers to herself, “Lundi”, which means “puffin” in Icelandic.
Soon the sky is speckled with them – puffins, puffins everywhere.
Millions of these birds are returning from their winter at sea.
They are coming back to Halla’s island and the nearby, uninhabited islands to lay eggs and raise puffin chicks. It’s the only time they come ashore.

---

Halla searches the sky every day. As she watches from on a cliff overlooking the sea, she spots her first puffin of the season. She whispers to herself, “Lundi”, which means “puffin” in Icelandic.

Soon the sky is speckled with them – puffins, puffins everywhere. Millions of these birds are returning from their winter at sea. They are coming back to Halla’s island and the nearby, uninhabited islands to lay eggs and raise puffin chicks. It’s the only time they come ashore.