

Gr. 2, Theme 3, Story
Jamaica Louise James, Fluency

happened	mayor	plaque	station	believe whole	stories	whenever	beginning	lacing artist	pencils	skinny	building	something

---

I was the one with the cool idea... It happened last winter and the mayor put my name on a golden plaque.
It's down in the subway station at 86th and Main.
You can see it if you go there. That's me.
You better believe it! Want to hear my big idea?
I'll tell but you've got to listen to the whole story, not just part of it. Mama says my stories go on and on.
Whenever I'm just at the beginning of one, she tells me,
"Get to the point, Jamaica!" or "Snap to it, baby!" But I like lacing up the details, this way and that. The story begins with me.
I have a big artist pad with one hundred big pages and five colored pencils with perfect skinny points.
Sometimes I set myself up on the top step of our building.
Where everyone can see me. Everything I see is something I want to draw.

I was the one with the cool idea... It happened last winter and the mayor put my name on a golden plaque. It's down in the subway station at 86th and Main. You can see it if you go there. That's me.

You better believe it! Want to hear my big idea? I'll tell but you've got to listen to the whole story, not just part of it.

Mama says my stories go on and on. Whenever I'm just at the beginning of one, she tells me, "Get to the point, Jamaica!" or "Snap to it, baby!" But I like lacing up the details, this way and that.

This story begins with me. I have a big artist pad with one hundred big pages and five colored pencils with perfect skinny points. Sometimes I set myself up on the top step of our building, where everyone can see me.

Everything I see is something I want to draw.